

ITINERARY

if you have 2 HOURS

Marina del Rey is equally relaxing and engaging. Any of the following activities will get you into the fresh air for a short while and treat you to scenic views.

Taste the Marina's culinary offerings in any of our popular restaurants that boast harbor views, outdoor terraces, and acclaimed chefs. Time: 1-2 hours.

Experience the stand-up paddleboarding craze with hourly rentals available through Marina del Rey Boat Rentals, Pro SUP Shop, or the UCLA Marina Aquatic Center. Time: 1-2 hours.

Daniel's Bicycle Rentals in Fisherman's Village rents by the hour, so you can enjoy a quick ride on a segment of the Marvin Braude Coastal Bike Trail, or just pedal around the Marina. Time: 1-2 hours.

Jetski, kayak, or captain your own electric boat with hourly rentals from Marina del Rey Boat Rentals in Fisherman's Village. Time: 1-2 hours.

Enjoy a waterfront picnic in Burton Chace Park. This green space has a perimeter walking path with views of passing sailboats and other watercraft, as well as picnic tables and barbecues. Time: Up to you.

Explore the neighboring Ballona Wetlands, home to more than 200 species of wildlife. One- or two-hour docent-led tours are available on select weekend days (inquire for details), or go at your own pace on a public walking path that traces the perimeter. Time: 1-2 hours.

ITINERARY

if you have 4 HOURS

In a half-day, you can start to dig in to Marina life. Enjoy the sunshine and sparkling harbor views on one or more of these excursions.

City Cruises offers the only public dining cruises in the Marina. Depending on the day and time of your visit, consider a brunch or dinner sailing with musical entertainment. From spring through early fall, City Cruises adds to the lineup with sunset cocktail cruises on Wednesdays, timed so you can watch the California Yacht Club's Sunset Series Regatta. If you rent a boat, kayak or paddleboard, you can also dock and dine at spots like Brizo, Killer Shrimp and Fisherman's Village. Time: About 3 hours.

Get a bird's-eye view of the entire Los Angeles coastline on an excursion with Marina del Rey Parasailing (March-October). Choose from 500 or 800 feet. Time: About 2 hours.

Pedal along the 22-mile Marvin Braude Coastal Bike Trail, which winds through Santa Monica, Venice Beach, and other seaside towns to the north and south of the Marina. Hourly or full-day rentals are available from Daniel's Bike Rentals at Fisherman's Village. Time: Up to you.

Shop 'til you drop at Waterside, the Marina's outdoor shopping center, or take a quick jaunt to Abbot Kinney Boulevard in Venice, which is lined with funky boutiques and restaurants. Time: Up to you.

Bike or walk to nearby Venice Beach and enjoy the carnivalesque Boardwalk scene with street performers, beachfront cafes, and colorful characters. Head a little more north to Santa Monica for popular shopping on Third Street Promenade. Time: Up to you.

ITINERARY

if you have A FULL DAY

You're the ultimate leisure traveler! You could easily pair a couple of activities from the quick-stay sections, or indulge in one of the following signature sightseeing opportunities.

Charter a skippered yacht and sail along the Los Angeles coastline. Enjoy views of popular landmarks like the world-famous Venice Beach Boardwalk or the Santa Monica Pier's amusement park.

Join a public deep-sea fishing excursion into Santa Monica Bay with Marina del Rey Sportfishing. Choose from open-party (public) half-day and three-quarter-day fishing trips. If you're visiting in winter, this same vendor offers whale-watching trips. Time: 5-9 hours.

Indulge in a relaxing day at The Ritz-Carlton, Marina del Rey starting with a well-deserved spa treatment at Sisley Spa, the only one of its kind on the West Coast. Then, catch some rays at the hotel's waterfront saltwater pool, followed by a satiating meal on the patio at Cast & Plow overlooking the harbor and sparkling water. Time: 6+ hours
